

George Karkas,
Deputy Director, Office for Combating Cybercrime and Digital Forensic Laboratory, Cyprus Police

Short Curriculum Vitae (C.V.)

Mr George Karkas joined the Police on 29/10/1996 and finished the Police Academy in November 1999. He served for many years to the Crime Investigation Department (CID) in Nicosia. In 2007 he was promoted to Sergeant and in the same year he was transferred to the Cyber-Crime office in the position of deputy director of the office. In 2010 he has finished his Bsc (Hons) Crime and Criminology degree from the University of Portsmouth of UK. Moreover, he has received training in handling juvenile persons in violence from FBI USA for two months and further education both abroad and in Cyprus on computer forensics.

“O.C.C and D.F.L responsibilities and legal framework on attacks on information systems”

The presentation covers the functions and responsibilities of the Office for Combating Cyber Crime & Digital Forensic Laboratory concerning the investigation of cases and evidence examination. It also covers the basic legislation that exists in Cyprus concerning the Cybercrime and particularly to the electronic attacks on information systems.